1. The first step in the process of the investigation is to identify the problem. This involves gathering information about the situation and determining what needs to be done. The next step is to develop a plan of action. This involves deciding on the best way to solve the problem and setting goals for the investigation. The third step is to implement the plan. This involves carrying out the investigation and collecting data. The fourth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the results of the investigation to the goals and determining if the problem has been solved. The final step is to report the findings. This involves writing a report that summarizes the results of the investigation and provides recommendations for future action.
